Sustainable Growth

RESOURCE LIST

Section 1: Policy and Legislative Tools

This section focuses on resources that offer model language for comprehensive plans, zoning ordinances, and regulatory amendments necessary to achieve the state's sustainable growth goals. These tools are designed to move beyond traditional, single-issue regulations by demonstrating how integrated policy can simultaneously address development patterns, environmental protection, and economic vitality. Resources here help legislative staff and elected officials create policy and regulation that enables more sustainable land-use practices.

Resource Type	Resource Title	Description / Focus Area	Link to Resource	Provider	Primary Principle	Secondary Principle(s)
Guidance Document	Tax Increment Financing (TIF)	Introductory guide on how TIF works in Maryland, with case studies and best practices	https://planning.maryland.gov	MDP	Economy	Transportation, Place
Model Ordinance	City of Portland OR Unified Zoning & Subdivision Control Ordinance	Model ordinance for addressing parking maximums	https://thecityofportland.net/	City of Baltimore	Transportation	Place, Land
Guidance Document	Water Resources Element	The Water Resources Element (WRE), a statutory requirement for local comprehensive plans, is designed to ensure that local plans for growth and development can be supported given limitations and constraints of water resources and water, sewer and stormwater infrastructure.	https://planning.maryland.gov	MDP	Ecology	Resilience
Policy Guidance Document	Developing and Anti-Displacement Strategy	Guidance document for developing anti-displacement policies and strategies in neighborhoods experiencing rising housing costs. Includes a step-by-step development approach and examples from around the United States	https://www.localhousingsolutions.org	Local Housing Solutions	Equity	Housing, Economy

Section 2: Project Development Guides

This section contains actionable, practical guidance for applying the sustainable growth principles at the project and infrastructure level. Resources include technical standards, design guides, and checklists that help translate high-level policy into on-the-ground outcomes. Topics include demonstrating best practices for integrating infrastructure efficiency, maximizing asset life, and creating diverse, quality housing options.

Section 3: Data, Assessment, and Engagement Tools

Effective planning begins with understanding existing conditions and community needs. This section provides the foundational tools necessary for data-driven, equitable decision-making and genuine public partnership. Resources include links to critical state data layers, data sets, and standardized public engagement toolkits. These resources ensure that planning decisions are grounded in objective analysis, prioritize underserved populations, and fully incorporate the social and historical context of the community.

Section 4: Funding and Incentive Programs

Funding is a critical resource for all stakeholders, from elected officials seeking capital funding to developers looking for incentives. This section lists available state and federal funding programs, tax credits, and financial incentives that specifically reward projects demonstrating the integration of multiple sustainable growth principles but is by no means exhaustive. The resources here are organized to guide users toward funding streams that prioritize investments in existing population centers, support equitable infrastructure improvements, and enhance community resilience.
